Reverend Dr. Andy's New Monthly Series

Interview with a Member of the Congregation

Debbie Dinyes has been a member of VUU since the mid-1970s, when she moved to Tempe at the end of a big adventure. In 1969, Bill and Debbie, both teachers, were living in Dayton, Ohio. The couple spotted an ad in a teaching magazine. Teaching couples were needed in Alaska. With teaching degrees and no children of their own yet, Debbie and Gary decided to go.

The Alaskan bush, Debbie said, “was a total culture shock to me after growing up in the New York City metro area.” The first thing she noticed was that there were no bushes in the bush. “It was just flat tundra and little sticks here and there,” she said. This would be her home for the next four years.

The first of three schools at which Debbie and Bill taught was Nunivak Island located off the coast of. The village of about 350 people was home to a musk ox sanctuary and a herd of reindeer that the villagers used for meat themselves and for sale. Boardwalks connected the few buildings in the village, since the ground was always either frozen or muddy.

Debbie and Bill lived in the housing set aside for the approximately six teachers at the school. “We were the only people who had electricity throughout the house” Debbie said. “Everyone else had small generators. On Saturday morning, laundry day, the generators got going. We could look right out our door and see the ocean.”

There were no roads to speak of in the village, since people traveled mostly by snowmobile and airplane. It wasn't an easy life for the people who called this part of Alaska home, especially prior to the discovery of oil in the state. Since these remote schools were so expensive to operate the Bureau of Indian Affairs ran them. Village schools were K-8 and for high school the students went to school in Anchorage while boarding with families, or to Mont Edgcombe boarding school in Oregon. Today, due in large part to oil money, these schools are under local control and the schools are all K-12.

The school served as much more than a place to learn science and math. “The school was the best place in town to spend your day.” Debbie said. “It had heat and light. It had indoor running water. We never ever had an attendance problem unless somebody was very sick.”

When in 1973 they had their first child, Debbie and Bill moved back to the lower 48, to Tempe. Bill worked as a teacher on the Gila River Reservation while Debbie stayed home with the baby, but she was soon ready for adult company. She turned to the yellow pages to find a Unitarian Universalist congregation and found VUU, then located on River Road in Tempe.

Back then, there were fewer than 100 members in the congregation. The VUU sanctuary was a remodeled home with little space for offices or classrooms. Two ministers came and went until the congregation decided to go without a minister for financial reasons.

In those days, like many UU congregations, VUU had no summer services. Instead, there were hikes and swimming pool parties.

“You know we were small, because we all fit in one house,” Debbie said. Members wanted to grow, but knew they faced an uphill struggle.

“We decided we’re never going to grow here stuck back in that neighborhood,” Debbie said. “That was before you had the Internet, so you had the yellow pages to work with. The building was way too small, and we thought we needed something classier.”

Some members scraped together money and bought a property on Warner Road. They donated it to the congregation, and a sanctuary was built at 1700 West Warner Road. Still today, a massive chalice reminds passers-by that the building used to host a UU congregation.

The Warner Road sanctuary was built on less than a shoestring budget. “That we could build that building still amazes me because we had a little over 100 members at the time,” Debbie said. “I was on the committee representing (religious education), and we talked about what we needed in the kitchen, what we need for the children.”

The kitchen was evidence of the squeaky-tight finances for the construction project. “We designed a kitchen with no drawers, because drawers were too expensive. Talk about a shoestring operation. We started to grow because we were a little more noticeable.”

Debbie has done just about everything a person can do in a congregation. She taught children at VUU for years, even after she took a job teaching in the Kyrene school district in 1983. She worked alongside other members on pro-choice and peace issues in the 70s and 80s. She served as board president and was an integral part of the 2004 move from Warner Road to our current location in Chandler. Until recently, Debbie headed up the facilities team and worked on stewardship campaigns. She still sings in the choir and helps with the congregation’s memorial garden.

She is optimistic about the future of VUU.

“This church has always had a core of people who are interested in keeping the church going,” she said. “They had no axes to grind, they just wanted to work for the good of the congregation. We still have them, and I’m sure we will have more people join them.”

“I think we have a lot of new, very exciting members, and they’re stepping up in various areas and they seem to be sticking around,” Debbie said. “I hope they’re making friends.”

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear friends of VUU,

We had an excellent turnout at our VUU Annual Meeting on June 2nd, and I would like to thank everyone who attended. In that meeting the congregation approved the budget for the upcoming year, elected our new board members, reviewed where we are with our Capital Campaign and had questions answered on building our Faith Oasis. I would like to personally welcome Joan Bundy, Debi Grande, Linda Stenholm and Sue Keen (who graciously agreed to fill out the year term for Paul Schneider) to the Board of Trustees. Returning we have Bob Fabre and DeeAnne McClenahan. In our July Board Meeting, we elected the following officers for the new year's board:

- President – Musette Steger
- Vice President – Robert Fabre
- Treasurer/Financial Analyst – DeeAnne McClenahan
- Secretary – Debi Grande
- Board rep to Finance: Bob Fabre
- In addition, Sue Keen, Joan Bundy, and Linda Stenholm took Liaison and/or committee leadership roles

The board also voted in favor of transferring $16,341 to the Cash Reserves account which will now hold $60,726 in reserve for potential unknowns and emergencies. As this fund was as low as $668 for nine months just three years ago, we are pleased to have followed through on our commitment to add not just the $30,000 we planned over three years, but much more to get us to this record reserves amount that gives VUU more financial stability and credibility as we continue to execute our mission.

Other highlights of the year included increased community outreach, continued new membership, a growing endowment fund, and two newly formed committees CPC (Capitol Planning Committee) and CCC (Capitol Campaign Committee) which are helping us remain mindful of how an improved and more beautiful space can make a powerful difference in our ability to pursue our own spiritual paths and to share VUU's message of love, service, and justice with a wider, more diverse audience. The year ended in a very positive way thanks to the volunteers, staff, and ministers. I would like to especially thank the outgoing board members: Karl Hurst-Wicker, Maria Dixon, Mary Erickson and Paul Schneider. Your work this past year has been vital to get us to this point in our growing and expanding community. And to our outgoing President DeeAnne, a final thanks for your past year as president, for your leadership, role modeling, and vision.

Looking forward, this year's Board will be focusing on getting the new members up to speed and planning our goals during the Board retreat in August. We will also continue spending time on long-range planning with our capital campaign's effort of turning our vision into a bright collective future. As the uncertainty in the wider community continues to expand, I am looking forward to making a positive impact working with Rev. Dr. Andy and the board this year. I am excited for what it will bring.

Warm regards,
Musette Steger
 President - VUU Board of Trustees

MUSIC & MORE....

WORSHIP DESIGN WORKSHOP

On Sunday August 4 I will be leading a workshop on many of the specific techniques I've been learning about and implementing from the Worship Design Studio started by Dr. Marcia McFee. She is a long-time ritual artist who wrote the book Think Like a Filmmaker: Sensory-Rich Worship Design for Unforgettable Messages. We will gather for a potluck lunch around noon in the VUU sanctuary and after we get our food the workshop will start about 12:15 and will end by 2. Anyone interested in creative and meaningful worship are welcome to attend but please RSVP to me at music@vuu.org so I can have enough chairs and handouts. I gave part of this workshop at the Association of UU Music Ministries Conference in Denver last week and it was very well received.

Here is a link to a song I led on my recent trip:

<https://www.facebook.com/jed.levine.7/videos/10157538587763054/>

CHOIRS

The Adult Choir begins rehearsing on Tuesday, August 20th from 7:30 to 9pm in the VUU sanctuary. This choir sings a variety of styles of mostly 4-part music. No auditions are necessary, and some prior choir experience is desirable but not required. A love of singing in groups is highly recommended! The Chalice Ringers, (bell choir) will probably start rehearsing that same evening from 6 to 7:15pm, also in the sanctuary - check the VUU calendar for confirmation as this date gets closer.

CABARET

This annual fun musical and social event will be Saturday evening September 14 in the sanctuary at 7pm. This year it will be an open-mic format in different styles. Please contact Ken St. John ken\_stjohn@yahoo.com if you are interested in performing or in helping out at this fun, social and musical event.

JOURNEY TO MEMBERSHIP at VALLEY UU

We have four sessions a year (but sign up for only one) and the next one will be Sunday August 18 from noon to 3:30 in the VUU Sanctuary. If you have been attending VUU for a few weeks or months, are interested in finding out more about Unitarian Universalism and membership at Valley UU, and want to meet other newcomers, then this is for you! Please register by emailing office@vuu.org and let us know if you have any dietary needs for the lunch we will provide, or need babysitting for a child.

Immigrant Hosting: What Did We Do? What Happened? What’s Next?

VUU’s Immigration Team says Thank You! and You Are Amazing! to the 100+ volunteers who stepped up to host migrant and refugee guests in the VUU sanctuary in May and June. You made it possible for our 87 guests to comfortably pause in their long journeys from home countries to sponsors across the country. You provided food and clothing, diapers and toys, showers and toiletries, traveling snacks, car seats, and transportation to the bus station and airport. Most important of all, your smiles and conversation and one-to-one warm human contact said, “You are welcome here. We are glad to assist you along your way.”

For their safety and ours, we never post pictures of our guests, but some takeaways include: “She called from her sister’s home in Oakland! She made it there safely!” “She kept asking for a toothbrush, just a toothbrush. You should have seen her face light up when I was able to give her one.” “I’m still wearing the friendship bracelet she made while we were chatting at the craft table.” “People were SO grateful to finally be able to take a shower and change into clean clothes.” “He got off the phone and broke into tears. He had not talked to his brother in more than a year.”

A ‘thank you’ from Marta one of the children we hosted in May

Why did we not host in July—and probably won't in August? There has been a significant drop in the number of travelers being dropped off in Phoenix. This is often the case in the hot summer months and is probably also a result of new / fluctuating administration policies being established (and being challenged in court).

Based on the strong show of support from the VUU Congregation, we are confident we can mobilize quickly should the need arise again.

In addition, The International Rescue Committee (IRC), with the support of many Valley organizations including VUU, has just opened a new Welcome Center that will ease the need for hosting at area churches. The Center will eventually have the capacity to help 250+ migrants as they travel from detention through Phoenix to their ICE approved sponsors around the U.S. Most are here for no longer than three days—and center has ample room for beds, dining, childcare, and all the support needed to arrange bus and air transportation and to provide social and legal services. VUU has donated our shower trailer to the Welcome Center (IRC could not get a certificate of occupancy without it), and several people on our Immigration Team have helped get the center ready to open. Here are a couple links for more info about the Welcome Center:

<http://www.phoenixnewtimes.com/news/phoenix-welcome-center-opens-for-asylum-seeking-families-11332705>

You know, of course, that the work for justice never ends! We know you want to help. The Immigration Team is working to arrange for training for congregation members who want to continue working with migrants, most likely at the new Welcome Center. We will be meeting soon with Rev. Andy to decide on next steps. Watch this space and the VUU website and Happenings emails for ways you can become or stay involved. Thank you!

VUU COMMUNITY

Our congregational vision for the Capital Campaign is to raise funds for capital improvements to support four main goals:

- Family friendly environment
- More meeting space
- Unifying outcome
- Support VUU's mission

Together we are making this vision reality. The early portion of the campaign will continue over the rest of the summer.

The Capital Campaign Committee is thrilled to report that, after an early effort, pledges as of July 21 exceed $1 million. We are very encouraged by this progress and optimistic about reaching our campaign target of $2.5 million.

Starting October 1, the Capital Campaign will merge with the Annual Stewardship Campaign to become a Combined Campaign. You will notice a difference this year. Most of our congregants will be contacted to schedule a personal visit during October. Your Steward will spend some time visiting with you and then will ask you to continue (or even increase!) your annual operating pledge. After you have filled out the Operating Campaign pledge card, there will be time to discuss our plans for building a new Sanctuary and improving the existing structure. This will be your opportunity to make a second pledge—a three-year commitment to separately support our Capital Campaign.

How can you help make all this a success?

In the next few months, additional stewards for the Combined Campaign will be recruited and trained. Our current stewards can testify that making stewarding visits is rewarding and even fun! Our VUU professional fundraiser, Chris Sar, will present another set of training sessions on Sept. 8 and 15th, one from 8:30 to 10:15, and one from noon to 1:45, on both days. We invite all current stewards to participate, and we will need many additional new stewards. If you are interested in volunteering as a steward, please email Linda Horton at lindahorto@cs.com.

If your talents are along the lines of events organizing, we need help with our September 29 Kickoff Event. This will be a “picnic” held (indoors and/or outdoors) immediately after the service. We have a budget for purchasing food, making the rest of the planning a fairly workable volunteer contribution. Please contact Linda Horton at lindahorto@cs.com if you can help.

Put Your Paper and Cardboard Recyclables to Good Use

The woodworking club of the Ahwatukee Recreation Center collects recyclable paper and cardboard in 4 large dumpsters. When the dumpsters are full, the contents are sold to a recycling company. The money obtained from the sale is used to purchase good wood from which club members produce wooden toys for the area's children's hospitals.

On the third Sunday of every month (August 18), Sue Keen will accept donations of recyclable paper and cardboard from the congregation. She will deposit all donations in the dumpsters. If you're interested in helping, save your paper and cardboard and give them to Sue on third Sundays!

Thank you for Supporting the VUU Social Action Ministry

MISSING LIBRARY BOOKS

Do you have a stack of books you have been meaning to read? If so, please check to see if any of them belong to the VUU library. There will be a white label on the spine and a card pocket inside with "Please return to VUU Library" on it. We are updating the catalog and would appreciate your help. If you have a VUU book, please return it to the shelf market "Return Books Here." This shelf is on the small bookcase just to the left as you enter the library. DO NOT PUT IT ON LIBRARY SHELF. If you have a book you are still reading, please send a text to Johnnie Godfrey at 480-231-8381 or an e-mail at johnniegirl85218@gmail.com. *Beverly McCormick
Lauree & Phil Perry*

Thank you all so much for being an important part of our Community!

WOMEN'S GROUP MEETING:

Sunday, August 25, 2019 after the service, approximately 11:45, in the kitchen and sanctuary.

If you would like to get to know more women in our congregation, this is the group for you. All women are welcome. We enjoy visiting with one another as we share a light potluck lunch. Afterwards, we share our experiences about a particular subject.

Since it is August, we think talking about how we survive summers in the desert will be an interesting topic. We are not talking about leaving the Valley for cooler climates because a surprising number of us stay in the Valley for at least a portion of the summer. It would also be interesting to hear from those of us who lived in the desert when we were younger.

Please bring a dish to share, but if you haven't brought one, please stay. We will have plenty of food.

WAYFARERS - Happy HoUUr

Friday, August 16, 2019, 4:30 p.m., Blue 32 Sports Grill, 4845 S. Arizona Ave, Chandler, 480-284-6496.

Join us at one of Jim and Nancy's favorite places! A lovely Family Sports Bar with happy hour appetizers ranging from 1/2 order wings for $6 to $8 Calamari, with onion rings, bruschetta, loaded fries and more, in between! $3.75 domestic drafts to $7.25 specialty martinis. How bad can it be? And dinners from burgers to steaks and seafood. Its located on the east side of Arizona Ave and just N of Chandler Heights Blvd. Heading south, turn left mid-block at the Dairy Queen, and Blue 32 is on the left. Parking all around it. If you'd like to join us, contact Susan Lacy at lacynoe@yahoo.com by Wednesday evening, Aug. 14. RSVPs will be under VUU. The more the merrier, but remember, it's only fair there be seating for all who DO RSVP rather than for those who just show up. All are welcome but let me know even that day if you aren't sure before then. Then seating and staffing will be appropriate. Wayfarers are "travelers" who meet at different locations each month throughout the valley. Anyone is welcome to join us. Just let me know. Several new people have added to our company lately. We look forward to seeing YOU!
