"A Moment with the Minister"

I'm thrilled that this month, we will be focusing on the theme of generosity. I think we stand a good chance of keeping this gorgeous planet of ours around for my great-great-grandchildren if we can shift our thinking toward generosity.

One form of generosity is to give something important for the greater good. I thank you for your generosity in every worship service, and I talk about your giving of your time, your talent, and your finances to the mission of Valley UU Congregation. Without all of us pitching in, there would be no VUU. Our generosity brings something beautiful into being.

As important as that is, I think it's even more important to cultivate a worldview that is rooted in generosity. It takes practice. We can start by looking around.

Our shared planet is radically generous. Life shoots up from the ground, flies through the air, and burrows just under our feet. Miracles all around! Some religious traditions see a god in every tree, bird, and javelina, and even make offerings to the spirits that inhabit them. If you're interested in preserving the earth, there are worse ideas than thinking of every living thing as holy.

The mortal enemy of generosity is scarcity thinking, especially because it leads to scarcity in reality. Most of us grieve what the human species is doing to the earth. Much of it, from the deforestation of the Amazon to the death of species to the pollution of our shared waters, stems from our fear that there isn't enough to go around. We store up money against a feared future calamity. We buy stuff we don't need as 'retail therapy,' hoping to salve our hurting hearts. And that's to say nothing of corporations, which are really just a whole bunch of people doing things together, that recklessly endanger us in their quest for the next million dollars. 'There's never enough' is the mantra of scarcity.

Scarcity thinking is the offspring of our fear of our mortality. To be sure, we live in a time of amazing scientific advancement. We sometimes seem to think we have evolved past seeing God in every nook and cranny of the universe the way our forebears did. But without their focus on the afterlife and the continued existence of the spirit after death, we are left to stare directly into the end of our days. Science has brought us a long, long way. But we would do well to couple it with serious spiritual work if we are going to begin to live within our means as a species.

We start with ourselves. On a recent trip to Flagstaff, my family and I stopped by The Magic Store, where I bought a set of what the owner of the store told me are Buddhist prayer beads. Lately, my spiritual practice has been to roll those beads between my fingers and, with every passing bead, to simply say 'life is enough.' It helps me calm down and remember that the world has enough if I am realistic about what I need. If I don't let greed and fear force me into a scarcity-based consumer mindset.

Pretty soon, I remember that if there's enough for me, there's enough for everyone, and that since the earth gave them life just like it did me, they ought to have what they need. And, grounded by my own certainty of life's generosity, I can get to work doing my part to make sure that my neighbors have sustenance.

I hope that more and more, our society can remember that if we all pull together, there's plenty for each of us. And that we will be generous enough to share all the miraculous blessings that we experience every day.

With love,
Rev. Andy

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

TIME, TALENT, INCOME AND INFLUENCE

I first heard this phrase in a UCC Church in Meriden, CT. It has stuck with me over the years because it simply and beautifully articulates the requirements for membership in almost any religious organization. Also, as I retired, I had more time and talent than income, so the balance of my contributions shifted. This month, I ask for you to adopt this phrase in service to VUU. Here are some opportunities.

- On Sunday, February 9, VUU will hold a congregational conversation after the usual Sunday service. A light lunch will be served. The first item on the agenda will be a congregational vote on by-laws changes. A quorum of the congregation must be in attendance at the time of the vote, so this item will be #1 on the agenda. A little bit of your time will have a big influence! Other agenda items include:
  - The stewardship drive results
  - The status of VUU's budget
  - The Capital Campaign results
  - The status of the Capital Plan for transformation of our campus
- Mary Wolf-Francis has agreed to give of her time and talent by accepting appointment to the Board to fill one of two vacancies. We welcome her and her extensive talent in working with non-profit organizations.
- On February 22, the Leadership Development Committee (formerly known as the Nominating Committee) will hold a workshop from 9-11:30 in Rooms 1 & 2 across the parking lot from the sanctuary. The meeting is for everyone who is currently leading a committee or board, participating in a committee or board, or who might be interested in becoming part of a committee or board. There will be some training in leadership, food, good company, and good information.
- The entire month of February could be called "FUUND Times at VUU." VUUers have donated over 100 items to be in this silent auction fund raiser. Every Sunday, tables on the patio will be covered with photos and descriptions of treasures – from delicious dinners to vacation getaways to crafty workshops to healthy activities and more. Take some time to browse this treasure and bid, bid, bid!

I know that this month, I concentrated on the "time" piece of "Time, Talent, Income, Influence," but stay tuned in upcoming months for possibilities on the other parts of this phrase.

Today there are more than 500 federally recognized indigenous nations comprising almost 3 million people, descendants of the 15 million native people who once inhabited this land. The centuries-long genocidal regime has largely been omitted from history. This book covers more than 400 hundred years of policies that seized their lands and went about eliminating the peoples and helps us look at our history from a different perspective.

Ancient Chanting from Sacred Traditions

Tuesday evenings 7:00 pm – 8:30 pm, in Room 5.

Led by Stephen Parsons

Stephen will lead a series of chants (vocal prayers) from ancient India. Each chant is followed by a short period of silence. Typically, these chants, repeating the names of God, are performed in Sanskrit with a particular rhythm and melody. We make it easy by providing printed words and a musical sound tract for added richness.

Because of the spread of meditation and yoga, people in many parts of the world practice these sacred songs. Performance artists like Krishna Das and Deva Premal have helped popularize this special sound.

If you enjoy singing and appreciate sacred tradition, you are welcome to join us.

The Story of God: Looking at the building blocks of faiths around the world

Led by Sue Keen, materials needed: notebook and pen/pencil

Participants will watch episodes (whole or partial depending on the episode) of The Story of God with Morgan Freeman. Participants will record & discuss how the episode applies to their own beliefs and practices.

COLLECT STORIES, NOT STUFF Exploring Minimalism as a spiritual practice

Led by DeeAnne McClenahan, Feb 9th, 9 a.m. in the Board Room.

We will explore the many facets of minimalism, and how culling our physical worlds allows us to clear out and make room for what is important in our lives. How do we learn to “love people, use things”? Minimalism explores not just how much stuff we have, but the underlying why we have that stuff, and how parting with it allows more time, more money, and greater connection to the people and the causes that fulfill us. We will take small steps together and individually, sharing the experiences and feelings they evoke.

Sources including Marie Kondo, Joshua Fields Milburn, Ryan Nikodemus, Joshua Becker, share their spiritual as well as home-tidying journeys with us, and we with each other.

Imagine having the garages – in both your house and in your mind – neat and orderly. Not just with everything (crammed) in its place, but with the un-useful, the unnecessary, the hurtful and ugly having found new homes, so that the useful and the necessary, the soul-feeding and the beautiful, can live out loud...can thrive.

7th Principle Discussions

We will meet on Sunday, Feb. 23 @ 9 a.m. in the Board Room. This month we will talk about your favorite environmentally friendly household products. How do you protect the environment in your daily living?

For Christmas my daughter gave me a "Care" package of household items that minimize their environmental effects. Come see these and bring your own ideas/samples of cleaners, beauty products, etc that consider the task at hand as well as the world around us!

These programs are full:

Citizens' Climate Lobby Presentation Sunday, February 16 right after our Service Pizza lunch will be served.

Climate change affects us all, and the news seems to be getting worse and more worrisome, but it doesn't all have to be gloom and doom. There are many things that can be done to reduce carbon pollution in our world: personal actions as well as action by cities and businesses towards using more renewable energy, energy efficiency measures, for example. However, to deal with the huge impact of greenhouse gasses (GHG) in our world, systemic change is also needed and needed quickly. Inaction on climate change impacts lower income and minority households disproportionately, but they are also likely to benefit disproportionately with a steady reduction of GHG pollutants.

UU congregations are well equipped to advocate for climate action to benefit all of us, as clearly defined in the 2006 Statement of Conscience regarding the Threat of Global Warming/Climate Change. Climate advocacy can be built in to every UU Principle but particularly the 7th Principle, "Respect for the interdependent web of all existence of which we are a part."

Sandy Whitley, a VUU Congregant and a volunteer with Citizens' Climate Lobby will discuss global warming facts, how pollution affects our world and our health, and one potential solution that is recommended by scientists and economists alike as the most effective way to reduce GHG pollution in our world – a carbon pricing strategy. The climate change issue is big. Collective action to influence our Members of Congress is something we can do right now to make a difference. And as we learn more, we can also talk about it with our family and friends. A well-respected climate scientist, Katherine Hayhoe, says the best thing we can do about climate change is talk about it. Knowledge is power.

Please stay after services on February 16th to hear what you can do to influence your Member of Congress to address our warming world!

VUU COMMUNITY

Compassion in Action February 23

Chalice Lighters: Join Today!

Chalice Lighters is a long-standing program in our UU Pacific Southwest District that allows individual Unitarian Universalists to make small financial contributions to help other Unitarian Universalist congregations in their district with projects, often capital improvements, they otherwise might not be able to afford. There are now nearly 3,000 individual Chalice Lighters in the Pacific Western Region. It is very much like a UU version of a barn raising, a little from many people can add up to a lot.

Traditionally anyone who agreed to become a chalice lighter would be asked to contribute $20, 3 times a year for projects like those mentioned above.

Beginning now, it is now possible to have a gift to Chalice Lighters automatically charged to your credit card or debit card as a monthly recurring payment. Will you please consider setting up a $5, $10, or $20 monthly recurring gift online today and encourage others at VUU to do so as well? You'll never have to worry about missing another Chalice Lighter call letter, forgetting about whether or not you donated already, or even forgetting about where you put your check book.

It is also possible to make a one-time gift online today to your district's fall, winter, and spring Chalice Lighter calls for the 2019-2020 fiscal year and then not have to worry about making another gift for the next 12 months.

To read more about chalice lighters and learn about the history, please visits:

<https://pswduua.org/about-us/about-the-district/programs/chalice-lighters/>

To set up a recurring monthly gift online or make a one-time gift online, please visit your district's website at:

https://secure.lglforms.com/form\_engine/s/JH8FfhmAsokvXQZwPzm\_UA?t=1563495848

Of course, it is still possible to write a check after receiving a letter about each Chalice Lighter call if you have signed up to receive them. Call letters for fall calls for all four districts are in the process of being sent out.

Social Suppers

Would you like to get to know more people from the VUU community? Join the Social Suppers group and participate in monthly potluck dinners. A purely social event, there are no requirements aside from having a good time. On the first Saturday of each month – Feb 1, this month... small groups of 8 or 10 meet at a host's house for a delicious meal with a variety of side dishes. The hosts and attendees are always changing, so each month you will get to meet and visit with new people. Participants are not required to host, and most dietary restrictions can be accommodated. Singles, couples, and families are welcome, and you don't need to be a VUU member to participate. To sign up, please email circlesuppers@vuu.org.

Promoting Social, Economic and Environmental Justice

Paz de Cristo February Donation of the Month: Pasta

Please support our focus charity, Paz de Cristo, by bringing in a donation of pasta (any type) at any time during the month of February. Drop your donation in the designated container next to the Social Action Ministry table in the foyer of the sanctuary. With your help, we can do our part to restock the shelves at Paz de Cristo to make sure they do not run out of this popular staple.

Thanks for your continued generosity to Paz. Last month, VUU donated over 100 cans of food! You are making a difference with your support!

In addition, VUU is continuing to collect gas and grocery gift cards for Paz, which helps them maximize their buying power. Fry's are especially appreciated because they can go toward gas or groceries. Gift cards can be placed in the lock box in the foyer. Thanks for your generosity!

Paz de Cristo needs YOU

Are you looking for another way to help others who are less fortunate? Make a commitment to help feed the hungry at Paz de Cristo on a second Friday of the month. Each month, VUU needs 20 volunteers to satisfy our long running commitment to this wonderful charity. Please check here for availability and sign up - we'd love to serve with you! Send questions to pazdecristo@vuu.org

(Interfaith Homeless Emergency Lodging Program)

Put Your Paper and Cardboard Recyclables to Good Use

The woodworking club of the Ahwatukee Recreation Center collects recyclable paper and cardboard in 4 large dumpsters. When the dumpsters are full, the contents are sold to a recycling company. The money obtained from the sale is used to purchase good wood from which club members produce wooden toys for the area's children's hospitals.

On the third Sunday of every month, Sue Keen will accept donations of recyclable paper and cardboard from the congregation. She will deposit all donations in the dumpsters. If you're interested in helping, save your paper and cardboard and give them to Sue on third Sundays!

Opportunity to help Women4Women Tempe

How much difference can one little bag make? A lot! Women4Women Tempe provides bags containing feminine hygiene products to organizations supporting homeless and low-income women. The recipients, who often have nothing, are so grateful for the bags, which both bring a bit of relief into their lives and show that someone cares.

Some of the organizations supported by W4W:

Without Walls Homeless Outreach Ministry
 Women's Refugee Health Clinic
 Guadalupe Family Resource Center
 Paz de Cristo
 I-HELP
 Native Health
 Circle the City
 My Sister's Place

Everyone is welcome to assemble bags from 9am to 10:15 a.m. on Saturday February 8th in the Board and Conference rooms in the office building. It's also a fun, low-key way to get to know each other.

Ways to help:
