When will the fight-ing cease?
When will we live in peace?
When our love breaks bound-‘ries.

When will the fight-ing cease?
When will we live in peace?
When our love breaks bound-‘ries.

When will the fight-ing cease?
When will we live in peace?
When our love breaks bound-‘ries.

Want

Words and music by Birdtalker,

Tree Music

I don't want to have feet of stone.
I don't want to have feet of stone.

I wanna follow this river of life, where it will have me go.

I don't want to have feet of stone.

I don't want to have a dagger tongue.

I don't want to have a dagger tongue.

I don't want my words to be a weapon,
but a healing balm.

I don't want to have a dagger tongue.

I don't want to have a heavy mind.

I don't want to have a heavy mind.

I don't wanna hold these thoughts that are chains of iron.

I don't want to have a heavy mind.

I want to have eyes of love.

I want to have eyes of love.

Count the beggar man's life precious as my own.

Offer my back for my brother's load.

I want to have eyes of love.

I want to have eyes of love.

We Would Be One

Words by Samuel Anthony Wright, Music by Jean Sibelius, Arr. from The Hymnal, 1993, Copyright 1993, renewed 1961, Presbyterian Board of Christian Education

We would be one as now we join in singing our hymn of love, to pledge ourselves a-new to that high cause of greater un-der-stand-ing of who we are, and what in us is true.

We would be one in liv-ing for eah other to show to all a new com-mu-ni-ty.

We would be one in build-ing for tomor-row a no-bler world than we have known to-day. We would be one in search-ing for that mean-ing which blinds our hearts and point us on our way. As one, we pledge our-selves to great-er ser-vice, with love and just-tice, strive to make us free.
